

DIGICON 2023

17-19 October 2023

DIGICON
UDLHE Network

WHAT

The Universal Design for Learning Higher Education Digicon, an annual virtual conference, is arranged by the UDL Higher Education Network (UDLHE). Digicon 2023 will occur October 17-19, 2023, with a focus on international collaboration and participation.

WHO

The UDLHE Digital Conference will be an opportunity for UDL-interested (and invested) faculty, staff, and graduate students from around the world to convene and learn together without the burden of geographic and cost-based barriers.

WHERE

Digicon 2023 will occur in Mighty Networks, an online platform that encourages networking, collaboration, and unlimited access to resources even after the conference.

IN 2023

The theme of the 2023 Digicon is Multiple Means of Sharing UDL: from information to implementation. This year, our aim is to broaden participation from across the world by creating a timetable that allows live participation for all. We value the opportunity to come together synchronously and will encourage you to join sessions live where possible. However, all sessions will also be recorded and available after the event for those who prefer to engage asynchronously.
